

About

I'm a dedicated technician with a sharp ear for detail and a passion for enhancing every sonic element of a recording. My journey started in Berlin, where I developed a love for mixing and mastering across genres like hip-hop, indie rock, and electronic music. I believe that behind every great artist is a technical mind that brings their vision to life, and I take pride in being that bridge. Whether I'm adjusting mic placements, fine-tuning frequencies, or ensuring a seamless studio experience, I bring precision and creativity to every session. Let's build the sound that tells your story.
